

A FLASH OF BLISS

I could try to be smaller
I could try to fit in
Even maybe make a living in a box
Look the other way
Into a dark blue day
And embrace everything that sucks

You can look into a wall
And act real tall
And ignore all the people down there
Close your broken heart
When a singsong fills the air
Miss out of all the love that is here I wish you could see
A flash of bliss can be found so easily

It's the beauty of colours
How they mingle with your soul
It's the silence that roams, Hallelujah
True love is calling
You are not alone
It's what you see
It's coming to ya

I'm a busy girl
In a troubled world
And my mind says it's all insane
But I can't ignore when an angel calls my name
Whispering softly to my heart
You gotta see
A Flash of bliss can be found so easily

It's the beauty of colours
How they mingle with your soul
It's the silence that roams, Hallelujah
Trust between true lovers
And their beautiful colours
It's what you see It's coming to ya
